Spirituality and Gender: Catholic Perspectives on a Whole and Just Life

Wednesday, Oct. 4 • 7 p.m.
Walker Recital Hall

Greg Baker, director of campus ministry at Mercyhurst and a Doctor of Ministry candidate at Fordham University, examines where the Catholic tradition weighs in regarding the complexities of gender. He'll challenge listeners to inventory their own habits, attitudes and postures toward others and offer Christian wisdom for a whole and just life—a spirituality marked by openness, intimacy and freedom.

This lecture is free and open to the public, and is sponsored by the William C. Sennett Institute for Mercy & Catholic Studies at Mercyhurst University.
